FRIDAY DECEMBER 22, 1916

GREETINGS.

In accordance with our annual onatom of taking a week off during the Obristmes holiday sesson, The Chronicle will not be published next week, but will greet you again Eriday, January 5, 1917.

The Chronicle has nothing but good will for everybody. May your friendships be unbroken your accumulations of cheerful recollections and affections many, and the coming year bring you the best you have ever known in health, happiness and prosperity, is our wish to you.

Passing Thought.

Beneath the gaiety of the Christmas season there comes to the burdened heart a thought of sweeter comfort. The Christ whose birth we celebrate was born in a lowly manger, became "a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief' was betrayed by Ris own and scorned by these he loved.

Yet imbaed with the Divinity of Ged and inspired by strength from on high, He lived the one perfect save a lost and ruined world,

It is through the grandeur o His life that, all Christer dom-wel comes the anniversary of His birth with hearts full of jey and "peace and good will to men."

JACK LONDON.

Answering the question as to whether Jack London loved or deopiced the lighting man, Edgar imon, editor of Comopolitan would have entisted on the side of England. He did not tell bre what he did in place of going, but Mrs. London did last week. He has been supporting the mother of a soldier."

This is the way so many thonands of admirers went to think of Jack London. It would seem that only a brave, strong and kind man could write "Jobsy," his last story, and most fittingly, his best loved type—a dog-bero tale. "Jorry" starts in the January Cosmopalitan hat he now on the newstands.

The progressive farmers of the want a fair held in Camden us fall. Its 14 to our citizens to for the big event by one county fair amogiation. if you are is favor of a ir, speak out and say so.

CHRISTMAS.

There is always magic to all the mas, for men and women are but grown up children and children We doubt if there breaths a man or woman in all Christendom with soul so dead they feel no response to the approach of the Christian Natal Day of Him who was born in a manger in Bethlehem of Judea and yet was Lord of all come to give the lost and fallen world a chance for redemption.

When we are otherwise put out or discouraged by the seemingly drift of the time to frivolity (and worse) we are cheered and greatly encouraged by the whole souled work of Big Brothers and Good fellows in the cities of our fair Southland, who work to bring good obser and comfort into the homes of their less fortunate neighbors.

Look what the business men's association of Mashville did last week. This with the Big Brothers' street sales of the Tenessan and American's Christmas Stocking Edition, which closed Saturd evening, netted $4,479.66 to distributed among the poor. The Good Fellows, through the Nashville Banner, has accomplished as much or more for charity.

God will bless these faithful bands of men, women and children. as He will all cheerful enlisters in a labor of love. Let us emulate their example, and if we have more than our needs demand let us give to the needy ones. There can be no Christianity-no goodnesswithout charity.

There is an atmosphere of good will and good cheer prevailing in The Chronicle office which would and expression in a greeting to you. At this season we are reminded of our-pleasant business relations—of your patronage and support of our good will toward you, and we wish you a Merry, Merry Christmas.

Don't cease talking county fair. We need it.

Tuberculosis is a preventable lisease and caused deaths last year in Tennessee to the number of 4,499—five times as many as resulted from accidents.

The safety first slogan of tuber culosis is Live Right.

We know that tuberculosis in ound with poverty, with overwork, with underfeeding, wone, lack of rest, bad bonsing, dissipalien or any other conditions which place an abnormal strain upon tuman body as a machine.

The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuperculosis, fully realizing this, has organized a crusade to teach th truth that to live right is to prevent uberculosis.

This crusade is known as the Modern Health Crasade.

The Modern Health Grusade movement transfers some of the romance of the mediaval crusades to the activities of present day children is behalf of public health, right living and the protection of the weak.

Wherever a group of Crusaders may live they are organized into a eague, and the work of a League of Modern Health Crusaders is the promotion of health, both for its members and the community. Phore are no limitations as to wha busy do, so long se the work to be done will lead directly or indirectly to better health.
